FSA Honors Glenn Family at Second Annual Faces of Hope

NORTHFIELD, N.J. (November 16, 2017) – At their second annual Faces of Hope event Wednesday, November 15, Family Service Association of South Jersey (FSA) honored the Glenn family of Glenn Insurance for their decades of devotion to charity and community events in the region.

“Tim Glenn and the entire Glenn family have personally taken responsibility for making South Jersey a better place to live in by supporting social services, health care, the environment and countless other non-profit organizations,” Cindy Herdman Ivins, President/CEO of FSA, said. “We are so pleased to honor the Glenn family and hold them up as an example of how we can all make a difference in our community.”

In accepting the honor, Tim Glenn thanked the association and sought to enlist others in his mission of philanthropy.

“My greatest hope is that my actions inspire others to take the charity from their homes to help others in their neighborhoods and communities,” Glenn said. “My grandfather and my parents instilled the desire to help others, just as they had for decades before me. The need is greater than ever and we all must step up and give back.”

The fundraising event, held at the Atlantic City Country Club, also sought to highlight the organization’s impact in the community through its various programs and services. Proceeds from the event help families move toward independence and improve their quality of life.

“We help those no one else will,” said Herdman Ivins. “With the continued support of our community, we can make a real difference in the lives of everyone we serve.”

Family Service Association focuses on helping individuals and families struggling to obtain housing, employment and access to basic services, with the message that a brighter, more stable future is possible.
